MOUNT PROSPECT POLICE DEPUTY CHIEF MICHAEL SEMKIU RECEIVES THE NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY CENTER FOR PUBLIC SAFETY EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP AWARD

On Friday, December 9, 2011, Mount Prospect Police Deputy Chief Michael Semkiu was presented with the Northwestern University's Center for Public Safety, Public Safety Executive Leadership Award during a ceremony at the Hilton Garden Inn Hotel in Evanston, Illinois. The Public Safety Executive Leadership Award was established by the Northwestern University's Center for Public Safety to recognize individual development and organizational commitment to delivering professional police services to communities.

The award is presented to law enforcement executives who complete the entire series of management training programs offered at Northwestern University's Center for Public Safety in Evanston, Illinois: Supervision of Police Personnel, the School of Police Staff and Command, and the Executive Management Program. Deputy Chief Semkiu is a twenty-nine year veteran of the Mount Prospect Police Department. He was promoted to the rank of Sergeant in May of 1998, to the rank of Commander in July of 2002, and to Deputy Chief of Administrative Services in July of 2004, the position he currently holds.
