PRESS RELEASE

Detective Anthony Lietzow

Detective Lee Schaps

MOUNT PROSPECT POLICE PERSONNEL RECOGNIZED FOR OUTSTANDING MAJOR CASE ASSISTANCE TEAM (MCAT) PERFORMANCES IN 2011

On Thursday, April 19, 2012, Mount Prospect Police Detectives Anthony Lietzow and Lee Schaps were presented with commendations by the Major Case Assistance Team (MCAT) for their outstanding service and dedication during the 2011 operational period at the annual MCAT Awards Banquet in Schaumburg, Illinois. MCAT is a multi-jurisdictional organization formed in 1998 to provide investigative and forensic assistance to member northwest suburban law enforcement agencies during the investigation of homicides, serial crimes and other specific major criminal events. MCAT annually honors several member agency detectives who perform their MCAT duties in an exceptional manner.

“Detective Lietzow and Schaps’ receipt of these awards underscores their consistently strong work ethic and willingness to go above and beyond in their roles as MCAT detectives,” said Mount Prospect Police Department Chief John Dahlberg.

“Detectives Lietzow and Schaps bring the same strong skillsets to the MCAT Investigative Unit that they exhibit in their roles as members of the Mount Prospect Police Department’s Investigative Section,” according to Chief Dahlberg. “I commend them both on their selection for this honor,” added Chief Dahlberg.
